

How do the diameter, orientation, and location of the materials within the bird nest influence the strength of the nest?

The choice of using a mud cup strengthens the nest, suggesting one off the purposes of the mud cup is nest strength

