

MASTERING PHYSICS: Instructions for registration

In your web browser, go to <http://www.masteringphysics.com/>. Then (if this is your first time at that site) follow the instructions packaged with your textbook to register. You will need the six-word access code that comes with your textbook to register. For your information, the zip code at WPI is 01609. After you register, you will be able to login at any time using the username and password you have chosen.

At your first login, you will be asked to enter the course ID for PH1120. At this point, you should enter PH1120B2011SECXX, where XX is your conference section number, which can be anything from 01 to 14. For example, if you are in conf sec 7, you would enter PH1120B2011SEC07 (don't forget the 0 before 7).

You should register for one conference section only, the one in which you belong. Registering for more than one section is a violation of the course rules. If there is a need for you to change your section, please inform Prof.Aravind first.

The Mastering Physics site will contain a complete list of all the assignments for the course, together with their due dates.
