  - 3) Buy a binder-ready version – the same as 1) – but not bound – but holes are punched. The bound version is bulky and heavy – the binder-ready version gives you the opportunity to carry around just the chapter you are using. Available at the WPI Bookstore or from Pearson.
  - 4) Buy a Mastering Physics access kit plus access to an Etext version of Young & Freedman at the WPI Bookstore. If you do not feel that you will need a hard copy, this is a less expensive alternative.
  - 5) Buy a Mastering Physics access kit at the WPI Bookstore. You will not have access to the textbook.
- 4) and 5) can also be accomplished online at www.masteringphysics.com. You will need a credit card. Click on “Students”, then on “No”, then select Young & Freedman. It is also worth pointing out that options 4) and 5) do not give you the possibility of selling your textbook after the course is over – 1), 2), and 3) do.

Note that it is essential that each student have their own MasteringPhysics account. Textbooks, however, can be shared -- among roommates or larger groups.

The WPI Bookstore is also selling a Student Work Book to go with Y & F --this is a Bookstore recommendation and is not required for the course.
